NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 14.-Special .-The Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will meet in its one hundred and sixteenth annual session at Monumental church, Portsmouth, Wednesday next. This conference comprises the most of the State of Virginia east of the Blue Ridge mountains, and that part of the Eastern Shore of Maryland south of Choptank river. There are at present 260 active preachers in the conference, and a lay membership of about 87.000. Bishop Hargrove, who is well and favorably known t the Methodists of Virginia, will preside. He is a man of great ability as a preacher and of fine intel lectual attainments. He arrived here this afternoon and will hold a meeting of the presiding elders to-morrow to review the appointments for next year. This plan has been adoped by Bishop Hargrove in the past with great success. It in part disposes of the appointments before the rish of the important business of the conference. It is said to be far preferable to the old plan of holding off the appoin ment till the last day and then making them frequently without due considera-

She will deliver an address at one of the churches in Ports-mouth during conference week. Dr. Steel ecture Thursday night and Dr. Allen will speak on missions, when that sub ject comes up before the conference consideration Bishop Granbery is very popular in Norfolk, loved by preachers and people. He has just completed fifty years' service in the Church. He will de-liver a semi-centennial sermon Friday reported that Dr. J. F. Hicks, of Bristol, had signified his purpose to donate $19,000 to the Southwest Virginia Institute. The vacancy caused by the resignation of President S. D. Jones, of the Southwest Virginia Institute, had been filled by the election of Professor W. H. Tharp, of Arkansas. Rev. M. E. Iroaddus, D. D., has resumed the work of his pastorate, and the position of financial agent of the institute has been tilled by the election of Rev. M. B. Early D. D. The Seminary at Louisville had entered upon another prosperous year.

At the conclusion of the reading of the report, Professor Boatwright spoke at some length on the educational work in the State, giving an interesting outline of what the Richmond Colege had accomplished and what was necessary for the broadening of its scope of labor. He dwelt to some extent on the admission of ladies to the college, and declared that in adopting this policy it was not intended that the institution should come in competition with those schools that were devoted to the education of women. Professor Evalvight was followed by Professor W. H. Tharp, president of the Southwest Institute, who introduced his address with an earnest support of the movement to allow women to enter the Richmond College, and he predicted that in a few years the young women of the state and the South would be admitted to the institution on a footing equal to that of young men.

State and the South would be admitted to the Institution on a footing equal to that of young men.

Dr. George Cooper, of Richmond, asked the association to remember the Virginia Union Seminary, which was doing such a good work for the colored people.

To-night's session was devoted to home missions, the report being read by the secretary, Mr. C. B. Fleet, of Lynchburg. An eloquent and able address on the work of the board in Cuba was made by Rev. George Braxton Taylor, of Appomattox. The board reported on May 1, 1808, that it had employed 467 missionaries, who supply 1,990 churches.

As a result of the board's labors 4,720 persons were baptized and 4,770 received by letter. One hundred and three churches were organized, 45 houses of worship built, 68 improved, 237 Sunday schools organized, 4,028 Bibles and Testaments distributed, and more than a million and a half of tracts sent abroad. Receipts of the board, $54,251,04 for missions, and $56,385,36 for buildings. The board closed the year without debt, and with a balance of $620,80.

Dr. W. R. L. Smith and Rev. Ashby Jones, of Richmond, and Rev. M. D. Early, who is connected with western missions, made thrilling addresses on the report.

ADJOURNMENT.
